

Be a friend to a young person with disabilities

With just a few hours each month you could make a positive difference to the life of a young person with disabilities. Just doing things that friends do.

Could you help care for a young person with disabilities?

Caring for a young person with disabilities can be hard work. We are looking for people who could spend a little time each month to give parents and full time carers a well deserved break.

For the child, the chance to make a new friend does wonders for their self esteem. And for you it can be fun and very rewarding.
