Surrey's Community Vision for 2030 contains the shared ambition that "residents live in clean, safe and green communities, where people and organisations embrace their environmental responsibilities". This ambition reflects the fact that Surrey's residents have consistently raised concerns about how we tackle climate change with a clear desire to preserve their county for future generations.

This paper sets out a programme of work, developed by the County Council, which would help to achieve this ambition. It also proposes ways in which the County Council is seeking to work with its partners to address the climate challenge, and in so doing enable people and organisations to ensure Surrey is safe, free from pollution and has open, green spaces to enjoy in the future.
