

Surrey Multi-Agency Anti Social Behaviour Strategy

2014-2017

1. Introduction

The phrase Anti Social Behaviour takes in a range of nuisances, disorder and crimes which affects people's lives on a daily basis. It looks different and feels different in every area and to every victim. What is considered anti social by one person can be acceptable to another. The Home Office describes Anti Social Behaviour as, 'any aggressive, intimidating or destructive activity that damages or destroys another person's quality of life'.

Anti Social Behaviour (ASB) covers a wide range of incidents and is dealt with by a number of different agencies. If ASB is not dealt with appropriately and in a timely manner it can have a devastating impact on the lives of individuals, families and communities. It is widely recognised that single agencies cannot tackle ASB alone and must work in partnership to address the issues.

Issues that can be considered as ASB include:

- Rowdy, noisy behaviour in otherwise quiet neighbourhoods
- Night time noise from houses or gardens, especially between 11.00pm and 7.00am
- Threatening, drunken or intimidating behaviour
- Vandalism, graffiti and fly-posting
- Litter and fly-tipping rubbish
- Aggressive begging
- Drinking in the street
- Setting off fireworks late at night
- Abandoning cars

Some ASB such as threats, damage to property and dealing or buying drugs, are clearly criminal acts and should always be reported directly to the police.

What is not Anti Social Behaviour?

ASB can be difficult to define, and although annoying, there are some types of behaviour that are not classed as anti social:

- Children playing in the street or communal areas unless they are causing damage to property
- Young people gathering socially unless they are rowdy, inconsiderate and being intimidating to individuals
- Being unable to park outside your own home
- DIY and off road car repairs- unless these are taking place late at night or early in the morning

2. Purpose of this Strategy

This strategy sets how Surrey's Community Safety Partnerships, at both county and district/borough level, will work together to reduce the harmful effects of ASB over the next three years, building upon the excellent partnership work already operating and ensuring that together we continue to drive down incidents of ASB and sustain residents' high levels of public confidence and satisfaction.

Putting Victims First

A key focus of this strategy will be how we can provide effective support to victims of anti social behaviour, ensuring that together we understand better the impact ASB can have on their lives and ensure processes are in place to protect them from further harm.

Our priority will be the identification and protection of high risk or vulnerable victims of ASB. A vulnerable person is one whose experience of ASB, and resulting harm, is likely to be more significant because of their individual personal circumstances.

3. Scope of the Strategy

This strategy covers those ASB reduction activities that require a partnership approach and are common across the county of Surrey. The strategy does not include those individual, bespoke, ASB interventions and solutions that are developed and delivered at the local district and borough Community Safety Partnership level. These local activities are outlined in each of the 11 CSP Partnership Plans.

4. The National Context

This strategy has been developed in response to the ASB Crime and Policing Act 2014.

The Act contains a variety of measures to protect the public, including from anti-social behaviour, dangerous dogs, forced marriage, sexual harm and illegal firearms used by gangs and in organised crime. It also includes changes to improve the provision of services to victims and witnesses.

The Act includes the following key provisions to tackle ASB:

- Simpler, more effective powers for tackling ASB, which provide better protection for victims and communities, act as a real deterrent to perpetrators and give victims a say in the way their complaints are dealt with.
- Replacement of the existing 19 powers to deal with ASB with six faster, more effective ones.
- Landlords given powers to deal swiftly with the most serious ASB committed by their tenants.
- Victims given the power to ensure that action is taken to deal with persistent ASB through the new community trigger, and a greater say in what form of sanction an offender receives out of court through the new community remedy.

In addition to the above, this strategy also takes into account the findings of Her Majesty's Inspector of Constabulary (HMIC) report, 'A Step in the Right Direction', published in June 2012, following the latest HMIC inspection. This report found that:

- Performance when dealing with ASB has improved in every Police Force
- Further information is needed as victim satisfaction varies across England and Wales
- More needs to be done to identify and respond to those victims most at risk of harm

New Powers

Under the Act, 19 existing tools/powers to deal with ASB will be reduced to six. Anti Social Behaviour Orders (ASBOs) and some other court orders would be abolished and replaced by two new tools:

- The Criminal Behaviour Order (CBO) issued by any criminal court against a person who has been convicted of an offence to tackle the most persistently anti social individuals who are also engaged in criminal activity, and
- The Injunction to Prevent Nuisance and Annoyance (IPNA) to stop or prevent individuals engaging in ASB quickly, before problems escalate.

Unlike ASBOs, both these orders could have positive requirements as well as prohibitions attached to them. As is the case with ASBOs, breach of a CBO would be a criminal offence with a maximum prison sentence of five years. Breach of a IPNA would be punished as contempt of court with unlimited fine or up to two years in prison.

New community protection orders would replace a range of other orders and powers to deal with environmental ASB, ASB in specific public places and various premises closure powers.

The introduction of these new tools and powers will lead to a significant training need, for both police staff and their community safety partners.

Community Trigger and Community Remedy

The ASB Crime and Policing Act includes two new measures which are designed to give victims and communities a say in the way ASB is dealt with:

- The Community Trigger, which gives victims the ability to demand action, starting with a review of their case, where the locally defined threshold is met.
- The Community Remedy, which gives victims a say in the out-of-court punishment of offenders for low-level crime and ASB.

Delivery of this strategy should ensure that Surrey's communities are satisfied with the response they receive to a reported ASB issue. However, if a community trigger does occur we need to ensure valuable lessons are learnt and acted upon to prevent further triggers.

5. The Local Context

Overall satisfaction with Surrey as a place to live remains very high, and residents' confidence and satisfaction in the police and local authorities in dealing with crime and anti social behaviour has improved in the past three years. However, sustaining a reduction in these key areas during a time of economic hardship and shrinking public sector funding will be challenging.

While the latest results from the Residents' Survey suggest improving perceptions in Surrey, reductions in funding will put pressure on local authority provision of relevant services, such as those for young people or environmental health, and carry a risk of reversing this trend. As such, partnership working needs to continue to prioritise anti social behaviour in two ways, first through a commitment to addressing public concerns through visible joint agency working and secondly, through better integrated services focused on the most vulnerable victims and intensive service users.

Further information about ASB and other crime and disorder priorities for Surrey are contained in the Surrey Single Strategic Assessment.

Links with other relevant Surrey strategies and initiatives

This strategy links with a number of existing county-wide strategies and initiatives that already contribute to the reduction of ASB. These include:

6. Vision

We aim to improve understanding of, and our response to, incidents of anti social behaviour in all our communities. We intend to reduce instances of anti social behaviour and the numbers of people who are involved in anti social behaviour as victims and offenders. Where anti social behaviour does occur, we are committed to putting the victim first, particularly if they are vulnerable or a repeat victim.

7. Aims and objectives

Aim One: Improved, victim focused, response to ASB across Surrey

Objective:

- Facilitate a co-ordinated response across Surrey to legislative changes and the introduction of new ASB tools and powers under the ASB Crime and Policing Act
- Implement a risk assessment process that identifies high risk cases particularly where the victim is vulnerable, or a repeat victim
- Facilitate effective information sharing including shared IT that allows a more joined up approach to victims at risk and case management of perpetrators
- Improve support for victims of ASB through district and borough based Community Safety Partnerships

Aim Two: Improved understanding of Anti Social Behaviour in local communities

Objectives:

- Deliver effective communication at both local and county level to ensure that professionals and communities alike have a better understanding of ASB and are aware of the action that can be, or has been, taken to address it
- Undertake community engagement that identifies community concern, priorities and harm at a neighbourhood level and involves communities in resolutions where appropriate

Aim Three: Reduce the damaging effects of ASB through long term problem solving

Objectives:

- Use problem solving approaches to deal with issues that are affecting a community or section of the community
- Deliver effective education and engagement activities to reduce ASB and victimisation in the long term

8. Implementation and monitoring

This strategy sets out a programme of partnership activity over the next three years. The delivery plan will be updated regularly in order that progress can be monitored by Surrey's multi agency Community Safety Board.
