Surrey Health and Wellbeing priority(ies) supported by this item / paper	Safeguarding the population
How does the report contribute to the Health and Wellbeing Board's strategic priorities in the following areas?	1. Centred on the person, their families and carers A key principle of adult safeguarding is 'Making Safeguarding Personal'. This means the person and what outcomes they want to achieve are always placed at the centre of the safeguarding activity. 2. Early intervention A key principle of adult safeguarding is prevention ie preventing abuse and neglect from occurring. 3. Opportunities for integration Surrey always takes a multi-agency approach to safeguarding involving all relevant agencies. 4. Reducing health inequalities Adult safeguarding protects people who have care and support needs that cause them to be unable to protect themselves in the way people without those needs can. 5. Evidence based

	Adults are only safeguarded where abuse and neglect has been identified. 6. Improved outcome The aim of safeguarding is always to help people live their lives free from abuse and neglect.
