

One County... One Team

How will we make this happen?

There are a series of more detailed Strategies and plans that link this high level Corporate Strategy to the specific actions that teams and individuals will take to make it happen.

What difference will this make by 2017?

The changes and improvements we will make over the next five years are all designed to achieve better outcomes for Surrey and its residents. We are setting out the following ambitious goals for 2017:

- every child or adult in need of support is protected and supported to lead an independent life
- Surrey has strong and vibrant communities
- the county is low-carbon with a sustainable infrastructure that conserves our rich environment
- we respond quickly to the changing needs of individuals, families and communities
- Surrey County Council is acknowledged as the most effective council in England.

We will regularly review our progress in implementing this Strategy and will share updates against the key measures and commitments with residents.

Finally, we recognise that over the next five years we will be faced with new opportunities and unexpected challenges. We will learn and be flexible in our approach so we can adapt quickly in changing times. With this in mind we will review and re-issue this Strategy and our supporting plans in March 2013.

- work towards ensuring all Surrey businesses, households and community organisations can gain access to super-fast broadband
- improve the county's roads
- develop an Eco Park to reduce the amount of waste going to landfill and help achieve our ambitious 70% household recycling target
- support a successful and safe 2012 Olympics, maximising the long term benefits for the county
- deliver savings of £72m in the 2012/13 financial year
- invest in the skills and technology that staff and members need to provide an excellent service.

How will we make this happen?

In 2008 Surrey County Council was failing Surrey residents. Key essential services were not being delivered effectively: some were close to failure. Our costs were spiralling out of control: our projected spending over the years 2009 to 2013 was over £200 million more than the income we would have. We had little credibility with key partners. We had not invested as well as we should have in the skills and training of staff and the equipment they had to work with.

It wasn't a great starting place to deal with the biggest set of challenges public services have faced in 80 years. In 2009 we set out a four year plan to improve our performance, sort out our finances and recover our status as a leading council. We've done that. Our first phase of recovery and improvement is complete and we are recognised as a high performer.

Key actions

Over the next five years we will invest:

- £149m in improving roads and tackling congestion
- £244m in providing additional school places
- £189m additional funds to ensure vulnerable children and adults are supported.

We will reduce our costs by more than £200m over the next five years.

We will develop effective partnerships to reduce costs and improve services.

We will involve more and more service users in designing and delivering effective services.

and those residents who need us most. We will also be unable to play our part in working with others to secure strong economic growth in Surrey.

Time for leadership: time for change

Now that we have re-established Surrey as a high performing Council the time is right to set out how we will continue to improve services for residents within the resources we will have in future.

During the next few years many councils will respond to the challenges they face by reducing their capacity and capability. We won't. We will conserve and where we can build on our strengths. We are a large organisation. That is a major strength if we work together effectively. We will continue to focus on building our one team culture for Surrey.

This short document sets out our vision for 2017 and the steps we will take over the next five years to achieve it. We hope you understand our approach. If you have any comments please contact us at davidhodge@surreycc.gov.uk or davidmcnulty@surreycc.gov.uk

SURREY

Our purpose - To ensure good quality public services for the residents of Surrey so they remain healthy, safe and confident about the future.

Our vision for 2017 By 2017 we will be the most effective Council in England

What we will focus on - This vision is ambitious. To achieve it there are six things we have to focus on and get right. These tell a story about how we will transform the way we work with residents, businesses, partners and staff to tackle the issues facing Surrey and navigate our way through the most difficult environment local government has faced for the last 80 years.

Residents Individuals, families and communities will have more influence, control and responsibility

Individuals, families and communities across Surrey have different needs and aspirations. To meet these it is crucial we develop new relationships that increase their control over how services are designed and provided. This move to greater localism will develop in different ways. We will stimulate changes by engaging with and listening to residents, moving some decision-making powers and funding to local levels, and being transparent about what we do and how much it costs. We will work with adults and children who need support to shape the sort of services they receive so they can lead more independent and fulfilled lives. In everything we do we will treat all residents fairly and with respect.

Partnerships We will work with our partners in the interests of Surrey

Putting residents' interests first means setting aside organisational boundaries and traditional roles. We will work with whoever is best placed to help improve outcomes for Surrey residents. This could range from co-designing specific services with residents to formal arrangements with social enterprises or partners such as other councils and the private, voluntary, community and faith sectors. If we remain a strong organisation we will have the strength to support others in the voluntary, community and faith sector to make their contribution to Surrey's wellbeing. And we will be able to play our part in working with business partners to improve Surrey's competitiveness as the world economy recovers.

Quality We will ensure the highest quality and encourage innovation

However services change and whoever delivers them, we will focus on ensuring the highest quality at all times. This means working relentlessly with residents, businesses, partners and staff to find improvements and develop fresh approaches. We will focus on prevention, anticipating and avoiding problems before they arise.
