

THE PENSIONS REGULATOR'S GENERAL CODE OF PRACTICE COMPLIANCE CHECKLIST

REPORT SUMMARY

In March 2024, the Pensions Regulator's (TPR) new General (single) Code of Practice (the General Code) came into force, consolidating ten of its existing fifteen codes of practice into a single code to provide clear, consistent expectations on pension scheme governance and administration. The code emphasises establishing an effective system of governance (ESOG) and requires schemes with over 100 members to conduct an Own Risk Assessment (ORA) at least every three years, with the first ORA due by 2026. It applies to trustees and managers of all occupational and personal pension schemes.

KEY COMPONENTS

The key components of an Effective System of Governance (ESOG) as outlined in the general code of practice include:

1. Role of Trustees and Chair: Including meetings and decision-making processes.
 2. Remuneration Policy: Framework for ensuring value for money.
 3. Trustee Knowledge and Understanding: Building and maintaining knowledge, identifying gaps, and documenting training.
 4. Dispute Resolution Procedures: Processes for resolving disputes.
 5. Risk Management: Identifying, assessing, and managing risks using internal controls and continuity planning.
 6. Conflicts of Interest: Managing potential conflicts.
 7. Managing Advisers and Service Providers: Oversight of external advisers and service providers.
 8. Investment Governance: Including stewardship, decision-making, monitoring, and climate change considerations.
 9. Member Communications: General principles for communicating with members.
- The detail of what constitutes an ESOG will depend on the size, nature, scale, and complexity of the scheme's activities.

COMPLIANCE ASSESSMENT AND CHECKLIST

This report presents the outcome of an initial assessment of SFRS's compliance with the updated requirements of the General Code, and highlights areas where either further investigation or action is required to ensure greater compliance with the ESOG expectations of the General Code.

More detailed reports will be presented to future Pension Board meetings on key areas within the General Code, and action plans will be developed to improve compliance.

RECOMMENDATION: That the Pension Board notes the report and:

- i) Agrees the high-level assessment of compliance with the requirements of the Pensions Regulator's General Code of Practice.
- ii) Notes and agrees the priority areas for future action.

1. REASON(S) FOR RECOMMENDATION(S) AND OPTIONS CONSIDERED

- 1.1 Following the enactment of the Public Service Pensions Act 2013, the role of TPR was extended to include public service pension schemes.
- 1.2 With respect to the Firefighters' Pension Scheme, TPR has responsibilities in relation to governance and administration; its role does not extend to funding and investment issues. Schedule 4 of the Public Service Pensions Act 2013 requires TPR to issue Codes of Practice in respect of certain specified matters. The Firefighters' Pension Scheme is expected to have regard to the requirements of TPR Codes of Practice in governing and administering the Scheme.
- 1.3 The Scheme Manager has previously assessed the Scheme's compliance against COP14, (in 2021) and there were no significant areas of concern.
- 1.4 The new General Code is 171 pages long and includes content which is both updated and new. There are five main sections of the code, with fifty-three modules, eight of which are not applicable to the Firefighters' Pension Scheme. There are two new modules not previously covered in COP14: Cyber Controls and Pension Scams.
- 1.5 The Scheme Manager has completed an assessment of compliance on a red/amber/green scale, and this is presented in the attached checklist: Red meaning not compliant; Green meaning fully compliant; and Amber suggesting areas for improvement. Actions required to improve compliance are also included in the checklist.

The initial assessment results are summarised below:

Areas of non-compliance (Red status)

- 1.6 Having completed the risk assessment, we believe there are no areas of non-compliance.

Areas requiring further action/review (Amber status)

- 1.7 There are currently 8 areas identified as requiring further review, summarised in table 1 below. These are where there are areas in existing processes and/or policies which should be reviewed with regards to the governance framework for the Scheme.

Table 1: areas requiring further review (Amber status)

Knowledge and understanding	Dispute resolution procedure
Conflicts of interest: Local Pension Boards	Administration: Contributions
Systems of governance	Benefit Information statements
Financial Transactions	Reporting to TPR

- 1.8 In most areas above, there are established policies and procedures, but they do not cover all the areas required by the TPR General Code of Practice. In addition, for some areas there is an identified need for review of the current policies and processes.

Areas of full compliance

- 1.9 For the other areas where SFRS is considered fully compliant with the requirements of the General Code, there are still several areas identified for review, primarily around reporting to the Local Pension Board on processes and actions undertaken.
- 1.10 In this context, additional information could be recommended to enhance existing reports.
- 1.11 The Board is asked to consider the attached report and agree priority areas for future action.
- 1.12 Once agreed, reports on progress in these areas will be included in future Board meetings.

2. KEY IMPLICATIONS

- 2.1 Increasing compliance with the Pensions Regulator's General Code of Practice will ultimately lead to improvements in the Scheme's governance framework, ensuring that the Local Pension Board Members have greater understanding to enable them to make more informed decisions about the Scheme, leading to improved service to scheme members and the employer.
- 2.2 The proposed action plan will be monitored by the Local Pension Board at each of their meetings to ensure progress is being made in line with agreed timescales.
- 2.3 The Compliance Checklist will be reviewed and refreshed annually to demonstrate progress and ensure that standards of governance continue to improve.

3. LEGAL IMPLICATIONS

- 3.1 The Administering Authority is required to govern and administer the Pension Scheme in accordance with the Public Service Pensions Act 2013 and associated Firefighters' Pension Scheme Regulations. Failure to do so could lead to challenges and financial penalties imposed.

4. RISK MANAGEMENT

- 4.1 A detailed Risk Register is brought to the Local Pension Board quarterly for review and approval; the risks associated with governance, compliance with regulations, cyber controls, among others, are detailed in the register. Increasing compliance within the Pensions Regulator's General Code of Practice will further support the mitigations against those risks.

5. POTENTIAL IMPACTS

- 5.1 Failure to comply with pension legislation could result in the Administering Authority being reported to the Pensions Regulator where failure is deemed to be of a material significance.
- 5.2 Equalities. An Equality Impact Assessment is available as Appendix A. There are no implications for any of the protected characteristics from agreeing the recommendations of this report.
- 5.3 Climate change/sustainability. TPR General Code of Practice includes a module on climate change, requiring that the Committee should understand how climate/environment risks impact upon their investments as part of their risk assessment and to understand the risks and opportunities associated with climate change. This module is not applicable to unfunded Public Service Schemes.

5.4 Data Protection/GDPR.
No specific issues arising from the compliance checklist in this area.

6. APPENDICES

6.1 This report is supported by two appendices:

- Appendix A – Equality Impact Assessment Screening
- Appendix B – Surrey Fire and Rescue Service: Firefighters’ Pension Scheme – TPR General Code of Practice – Compliance Checklist

Equality Impact Assessment Screening tool

What is an Equality Impact Assessment (EIA)?

An Equality Impact Assessment identifies the impacts of a new policy/change to a service on staff and residents with 'protected characteristics', or from particularly vulnerable groups/ communities. They enable key decision makers (both Officers and Cabinet Members) to consider these impacts when approving the policy and enable officers to mitigate any negative implications, whilst maximising opportunities for promoting fairness and respect.

This is in compliance with the Public Sector Equality Duty, part of the Equality Act 2010, which seeks to ensure people are not discriminated against because they share certain 'protected characteristics'. If there are any impacts on groups, Equality Impact Assessments should be developed as part of the policy development process.

Do I need to complete an Equality Impact Assessment?

This tool will help you establish whether you will need to complete a full Equality Impact Assessment (EIA) for a new/updated strategy, policy, service, or function. It will also enable you to evidence that you have paid "due regard" to the different protected characteristics when making your decision.

The key question on whether an EIA is required, is whether any aspect of a new policy, function or service, or changes to an existing one, will have an impact on residents, service users or staff sharing protected characteristics. If it will, an EIA will likely need to be completed.

Where do I start?

The table included in this document will assist you in thinking about the potential equality impact on all the protected characteristics listed, as well as those from other vulnerable groups. Completion of the table should inform you as to whether an EIA needs to be conducted.

What next?

If the decision is made that a full EIA needs to be completed, you can proceed to the Template document, which can be found alongside this document and the EIA Guidance on the website. This will outline the steps you need to take to complete the EIA.

The level of detail within the EIA should be proportionate to the issue being considered and the scale of the impact. For example, changes to an adult social care service that supports vulnerable elderly residents are likely to require a detailed EIA. However, changes to highway verge maintenance may not be as lengthy or in-depth.

If you decide not to complete an EIA, you must make a record of this decision. This might take the form of minutes of a meeting, an internal email, or a record in a service plan. Most importantly, it must make clear why you have concluded that an EIA is unnecessary. It is advised if you are unsure over whether or not a full EIA is needed based on your understanding of the guidance, then you should reach out to the Equality, Diversity and Inclusion (EDI) and Corporate Strategy and Policy (CS&P) teams (via equalityimpactassessments@surreycc.gov.uk), as well as any EIA trained colleagues within your Directorate/ Service for further support.

Impact of the proposals on residents, service users and staff with protected characteristics

Remember to consider indirect discrimination. Indirect discrimination is when there is a practice, policy or rule which applies to everyone in the same way, but it has a worse effect on some people than others.

Protected characteristic	Potentially Impacted? 'Yes'/'No'/'Unsure'	Additional details
Age- including younger and older people (e.g., are specific age groups excluded? Would the same process affect age groups in different ways?)	No	The General Code applies to all pensions scheme members

Protected characteristic	Potentially Impacted? 'Yes'/'No'/'Unsure'	Additional details
Disability- including hearing and/or visual impairments, physical disability, neurodevelopmental impairments, and long-term conditions (e.g., are information/questionnaires/consent forms available in different formats upon request?)	No
Gender Reassignment (e.g., Is confidentiality of the resident or staff member maintained?)	No
Pregnancy & Maternity (e.g., are services suitable and accessible for pregnant and/or breastfeeding women?)	N/A
Race- including ethnic or national origins, colour or nationality (e.g., any specific needs identified for certain groups? Are interpretation and translation services required?)	N/A

Protected characteristic	Potentially Impacted? 'Yes'/'No'/'Unsure'	Additional details
Religion & Belief (e.g., are locations affected by closures or restrictions? Is there equal access to the service or potential barriers to participation?)	N/A
Sex (e.g., is gender neutral language used in the way the policy or information leaflet is written? Are there different access requirements?)	No
Sexual orientation (e.g., is inclusive language used? Are there different access rates?)	No
Marital status/civil partnership (e.g., would there be any difference because the individual is/is not married/in a civil partnership?)	No
Socio/economic (e.g., would there be any requirement or expectation that may not be able to be met by those on low or limited income, such as costs incurred?)	No

Protected characteristic	Potentially Impacted? 'Yes'/'No'/'Unsure'	Additional details
Other vulnerable groups as recognised by Surrey County Council (refer to EIA guidance for list of these groups and where relevant include information about positive/negative impacts)	No

Have you identified potential direct or indirect impacts on people with protected characteristics or other groups? If yes, you will need to complete a full Equality Impact Assessment.

If 'No' please provide an explanation as to why an EIA is not required:

- The Pension Regulator has published a new single code of Practice for Pension Schemes and there is a requirement for schemes to comply with the new regulations. This is an assessment of the scheme governance and administration of Pension Schemes that is governed by statute and regulations. There is no facility within these regulations for discretion, and therefore no possibility for discrimination or negative impact.

Surrey Fire and Rescue Service: Firefighters' Pension Scheme (FPS)

General Code of Practice - Compliance Checklist

Introduction

Purpose of this document

This document has been prepared by the Scheme Manager on behalf of Surrey Fire and Rescue Service (SFRS) and presents the outcome of an initial assessment of SFRS's existing governance framework and policies in relation to the ESOG expectations set out in the code. It also highlights areas where either further investigation or action is required to ensure greater compliance with the ESOG expectations of the General Code.

Background

The Pension Regulator's General Code of Practice came into force on 28 March 2024. The Code applies to governing bodies of occupational, personal, and public service pension schemes and sets out the Pension Regulator's expectations of the conduct and practice governing bodies should meet to comply with their duties under pensions legislation. Not all the expectations apply to the Firefighters' Pension Scheme, and the table identifies those which apply and those which do not. It should be noted that some of the expectations are compulsory, reflecting a legislative requirement, while others are described as "good practice", where the expectation does not directly apply, but the Regulator suggests Schemes should "consider" adopting them.

Using this document

The expectations of the Pensions Regulator have been summarised in the following table, together with a view on the extent to which the Scheme governance and administration meets the expectations of the Pension Regulator. Please note that the expectations are summarised in this document, and it is recommended to have the full Code of Practice available when looking at an expectation in more detail. To help the Scheme, a colour indicator is included so you can see immediately whether the Scheme complies and, where the Good Governance Review might have an impact, a comment has been added against each expectation.

This review should be a "living" document which evolves to reflect any changes in the way the FPS operates over time or because of the Regulator updating its Code from time to time.

The definitions are set out at the end of the document.

Recruitment and appointment to the governing body	This module relates to processes for recruiting and appointing people to the governing body. It lists nine features that any such process should have.	Partial: – Pension Board recruitment is subject to policies in accordance with appropriate legislation, however it says this module "also applies to public service pension boards ."	Green	Terms of reference for Local Pension Board are clearly defined	The Review suggests that each Scheme will be required to publish a policy on the representation of scheme members and non-administrating authority employers on its committees explaining its approach to representation and voting rights for each party. Also, one of the KPIs in the Review deals with attendance at meetings.	Review current representation of employers/scheme members on Pension Board and attendance requirements
Arrangements for member-nominated trustee appointments	This module sets out the expectations for the processes to appoint member-nominated trustees.	The Firefighters' Pension Scheme does not have trustees, member nominated or otherwise, this section relates to private sector occupational pension schemes.	Green	Terms of reference	No	Review process for canvassing new members to serve on the board

Managing advisers and service providers	This module sets out TPR's expectations for the selection, appointment, management and replacement of professional advisers and service providers. The module covers procurement, monitoring performance, management of a provider and the replacement of a provider whether at the end or during a contract.	Good practice i.e. "Other schemes may wish to consider using the processes set out in the module as good practice."	Green	Proper procurement processes followed at operational level, custom and practice. XPS contract includes specific KPIS/SLAs	Potentially, because the KPIs include a number based on service delivery and process delivery i.e. retirements processed within an SLA. Also, one of the responsibilities of Scheme Manager is to manage delivery of the FPS administration function to meet SLAs.	Contractual arrangements /failings to be reported to board. SLAs /member complaints to be monitored and resolutions agreed

Under section 249B of the Pensions Act 2004, scheme managers of public service pension schemes must establish internal controls. The governing body should identify risks, record them, and regularly review and evaluate them	Green	The Pension team maintains project specific risk registers as well as a general pensions risk register which feeds into the overarching SFRS risk assessment process. The policy also sets out identification and assessment processes. Risk registers are presented at each quarterly board meeting and reported at each SLT forum. All potential risk areas listed in the code are covered on the existing risk register.	Potentially but we expect the Code and Review requirements to dovetail. In the section "Service delivery for the FPS Function", it lists the review of the risk register as a KPI. Also, one of the responsibilities of the proposed "Scheme Manager" is to manage delivery of the Scheme function to meet SLAs.	Risk register updated regularly Develop mitigation actions and contingency plans if required.

Assurance reports on internal controls	This is the process of analysing procedures to assess whether the scheme or service provider meets the relevant legislative requirements on internal controls. Procedures include statutory and internal audit, and assurance reporting by service providers or as commissioned by the governing body.	Yes. Under section 249B of the Pensions Act 2004, scheme managers of public service pension schemes must establish internal controls.	Green	XPS have their own internal audit controls	The Review is unlikely to add any further obligations, but it is worth noting that one of the responsibilities of Scheme Manager" is to manage delivery of the Scheme function to meet SLAs.	These reports presented to the Board and monitored Actions to be followed up
Scheme continuity planning	TPR expects governing bodies to develop and implement continuity plans to counter disruption to the scheme's activities.	Good Practice. Not a part of TPR's expectations for public service pension schemes " ..but it is good practice for them to consider carrying out continuity planning in the same way. "	Green	Business continuity plan in place	Unlikely – the Review lists this as a KPI but defers to the Code.	Review resilience of existing plan

This includes potential conflicts arising for members of the governing body who, for example, are members of the scheme or who represent trade unions. TPR expects scheme managers to be satisfied that a pension board member (potential or otherwise) has a conflict of interest and for the scheme manager to circulate and publish the register of interests.	Partially. Under section 249B of the Pensions Act 2004, scheme managers of public service pension schemes must establish internal controls. Good practice. Where conflicts of interest are not within section 249B, it is good practice to adopt the measures. Under section 5 of the Public Service Pensions Act 2013 and paragraphs 22 to 24 of the Code set out TPR's expectations for a pension board.	Amber	Conflicts of interest included in LPB documents and guidance Board members covered by code of conduct and registers of interests published on council's website. Declarations of interest are a standing item on all board and committee meeting agendas.	Yes. Own risk assessment	TPR requires governing bodies of schemes required to have an effective system of governance to conduct an own risk assessment whereby it assesses how its ESOG is working	Good practice. The obligation does not apply to public service pension schemes because they do not need an ESOG under legislation (just internal controls) however the Code says: " Governing bodies of other schemes may carry out an Own Risk Assessment (ORA) as an example of good practice. "	Green	Although good practice, it would appear most areas are already covered: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Governing body policies • Risk management policy • Administration Strategy Detailed review of all policies required to ensure completeness.	No
Risk management function	Schemes which are required to have an ESOG should have a risk management function. The function should be structured so the governing body is able to adopt strategies, processes, and reporting procedures so it can identify, evaluate, and record risks and also to monitor and manage risks.	No. This module does not apply to public service pension schemes.	Green	SFRS has own risk management function and risk registers are maintained and updated monthly	No
