

Police and Crime Panel – Glossary of Terms (Action R38/19)

R38/19: The PCC to provide an appendix explaining the acronyms and specialist language used in the reports in order to be accessible to the Panel and the public.

The Police and Crime Panel have requested a glossary of terms used in reports from the PCC - detailing key terms flagged in the previous agenda - to aid with explanation for themselves and the public.

Term	Explanation
Cuckooing	Cuckooing is a form of crime in which drug dealers take over the home of a vulnerable person in order to use it as a base for drug dealing.
Catalyst (3 rd Sector Provider)	Catalyst is a not for profit organisation providing services for people who experience wellbeing problems which may arise from traumas, often resulting in drug and alcohol use. More information on Catalyst can be found on their website: www.catalystsupport.org.uk/
Dovetail	In 2017 the Home Office proposed that the entirety of Prevent activity (for terrorism) should be moved from the police to become the responsibility of local authorities by the end of 2017/18. To achieve this change, the Home Office rolled out a series of pilots across the country to test the proposed arrangements. The 'Dovetail' pilot assessed the efficacy of moving the case management and administration (excluding Police Terrorism de-confliction checks) from the police to local authorities.
SHIPP	SHIPP stands for Surrey High Intensity Partnership Programme. Is a multi-agency response to people who are both high risk and high demand and have been identified due to regular and routine contact with police, mental health, substance misuse services, the ambulance service and A&E departments.
Fearless Worker	Fearless is our youth service and through the website Fearless.org offers young people non-judgemental advice so they can make informed decisions about reporting crime. The service also engages with and educates young people about the consequences of their choices around crime through dedicated Fearless Workers.

This page is intentionally left blank